

GOVERNOR HAS VERY BUSY DAY

Gave Four Addresses Yesterday, Speaking in His Shirt Sleeves.

TODAY'S SCHEDULE

Mayor Rose Also Grinds Out Several Speeches Each Day.

VISITS ROCK COUNTY

(Special To The Gazette.) Milwaukee, Oct. 9.—Governor LaFollette spoke four times yesterday, winding up at a grand meeting at Virgo. At Cashton the Governor became so warmed up to his talk that he took off his coat and appeared in his shirt sleeves before an enthusiastic audience. He was accompanied by Mrs. LaFollette and Chief Executive Clerk Rogers. In the four places that the Governor appeared, Sparta, Cashton, Westby and Virgo, he was most enthusiastically received. These towns are all strong LaFollette towns anyway and they turned out en masse to greet the chief executive of the state.

Today's Work Planned
This morning the Governor started his day at six o'clock with a drive across country to Reedstown in order to catch a south-bound excursion train for Gay's Mill where a fair is in progress. On his way he spoke at Viola and Soldiers' Grove. After the Soldiers' Grove meeting, he drove across country to Doscobel and will speak there this evening. Tomorrow he will take a twenty-four mile drive across country to Lancaster so as to be there on scheduled time.

Rose Also Strenuous
Mayor Rose also had a strenuous day yesterday and spoke at several places. At Clinton he talked for some time to an audience of over 200 and at Darlen he met a good sized audience. At Allen's Grove he stopped long enough to shake hands with the goodly number of farmers who were at the depot and at Delavan he talked to a large audience, considering the hour he arrived and the trouble of being heard through noise from passing trains.

Edgerton Enthusiastic
At Edgerton the mayor made his first speech of the day and was greeted at nine o'clock by some two thousand farmers and citizens, who were at the depot platform to greet him. Later he spoke at Beloit. Owing to some misunderstanding of the hour, few were present. At Elkhorn he made the speech of the day and had an interested audience, from beginning to end. Today he is in Racine and Kenosha, where elaborate preparations are being made for his reception.

At ten this morning he left the office with an unknown man who had come for him in a great hurry. It said that he went to Senator Platt's office but that report could not be substantiated. BOTH PARTIES
CLAIM VICTORY

Republican and Democratic Leaders Make Conflicting Predictions.

SURE OF WINNING

Large Majorities Are Claimed by Both in Coming Election.

COUNT ON SENATORS

(Special To The Gazette.) Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 9.—Both the Republican and Democratic state central committees are making claims for the state for their different candidates. Chairman Bryant claims the state will go republican by forty thousand and Chairman A. F. Warden lays claim to some thirty thousand plurality and also claims the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth congressional districts will be carried by the Democrats and that they have good chances for two more districts.

Much Literature Out

The Democratic headquarters are the most prolific with literature and their mailing list is a large one, covering all the points of issue that the present campaign is based upon. On Monday next Chairman Warden says that he will have two hundred speakers in the field from then until the campaign closes. These men will be divided among the different districts and counties and will be kept hard at work until election day.

General Bryant Confident

Despite the claims from Democratic standpoints, General Bryant, the veteran Republican campaign manager, says that LaFollette will carry the state by a forty thousand majority, and there will be no doubt about it. He also claims that the congressmen will have a solid delegation as usual, and that there will be no more Democrats in the next legislature than there was in the last. He is very sure of his facts and states that he has word from every town that Rose has spoken in showing that he has not gained any votes by his "hoopla campaign."

The Senators' Influence

Both General Bryant and Mr. Warden claimed that the appearance of the two United States senators on the stump will have much to do with the turning of the election, at least of the congressmen. Chairman Warden concedes that their taking the stump on national affairs will have much to do with the turning of the national elections and Chairman Bryant, while he will not concede that they will help the Governor's cause, says they will be very useful.

WISCONSIN VETS HIGHLY HONORED

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT PAYS THEM SPECIAL ATTENTION.

WAR EAGLE IN LINE OF MARCH

Pension Agent Coe Is Prominent
Among Grand Army Veterans
Now in Washington.

Wisconsin veterans had a splendid post of advantage in the line of march at the parade of the Grand Army of the Republic held yesterday in connection with the thirty-sixth annual encampment of the order now in session in Washington, D. C. As a result of the appearance of the war eagle, "Old Abe," and the happy thought of some of the veterans in arranging for giving the Wisconsin university yell at proper intervals, considerable attention was attracted to the Wisconsin contingent. No arrangements were made for moving the officials of the Wisconsin department and the result was that Commander Agen and his aids and the delegation of five past commanders present footed along with the rank and file in soldierly fashion.

Noted Veterans
At the head of the Wisconsin body marched Commander Agen and Adjutant General Fred Bird of Madison. Next in order came the five past commanders, including former Commander-in-Chief Weissert, the list being: Captain Welton of Madison, former Governor Upham of Marshfield, David James of Richland Center and Allan DeGroff of Buffalo center.

Wolcott post of Milwaukee made a handsome showing in the parade, being headed by a drum corps of twenty-five pieces, each man arrayed in white duck trousers and white cap.

The War Eagle
Then came the famous war eagle "Old Abe," from the capitol at Madison, borne aloft at the head of the Eau Claire post representation and standing for the Eighth regiment which bore the bird in his lifetime through the marches and battles in which the regiment participated. The eagle, the drum corps and the general attendance contributed to make a favorable impression for Wisconsin in the festivities of the day.

President Applauds
The attention of President Roosevelt was especially directed to the Wisconsin boys as the chief executive in his carriage rode down the line. The President was pleased with the appearance of the Wisconsin veterans. He returned their salutations very cordially and when the Wisconsin university yell was given it had a perceptible effect upon the President, who is certain to notice anything which relates to his Western life or his service in the Spanish war. He vigorously applauded the Badger contingent as he rode by.

Coe in Washington
Among the visiting veterans in Washington from Wisconsin are a number of political leaders and officials who have taken the opportunity for going to the encampment to attend to business in the various executive departments for their respective offices. Among the number is Pension Agent E. D. Coe. He marched with the boys yesterday and today will attend the reunion of his old command, the First Cavalry of Wisconsin. But he finds time to consult with the Treasury officials regarding plans for facilitating the payment of pensions to the pensioners who receive their quarterly allowances from Uncle Sam through the Milwaukee pension agency. Mr. Coe has called upon the auditor of the Treasury and also upon the pension commissioner.

BETA FRATERNITY "RUSHES" FRESHMEN

There was also an excellent musical program.

Shortly before midnight the party started for home and it is safe to say that the drive was by no means the least enjoyable feature of the evening. The gentlemen of the party were Ray S. Saberson, Milo Dillman, Alfred Wilson, Edwin G. Wheeler, H. S. Smith and D. C. Planck.

The excursion was one of the "rushing parties" being given now by Beloit college fraternities in an endeavor to secure desirable Freshmen as members. The guests of honor last evening were Messrs. Dillman and Wilson, and the other gentlemen are members of the Beta fraternity.

at the Myers Grand.

Wednesday evening the Flora De Voss Repertoire company closed their three nights' stand at the Myers Grand opera house in this city. "A True Kentuckian" was the play, and it was given in an acceptable manner. Miss DeVoss appeared in a character quite different from anything that she has attempted previously this week, and was received with shrieks of laughter. She played the part of a gawky country girl in a way that ought to satisfy the audience for some time to come. The remainder of the cast was up to past nights.

VERY ATTRACTIVE CHURCH CALENDAR

Members of Congregational Church
Have Pretty Reminder of Prayer Meeting Topics.

Rev. R. C. Denison has distributed among his parishioners an attractive reminder of the topics of the Thursday evening meetings at the Congregational church. It is in the form of a calendar bearing a pad, each leaf of which contains the topics of two meetings, beginning with that of October 6, and ending with August 27, 1903.

The pad is mounted on a heavy green back of cover paper, bearing in the center a platino print of some sacred subject. Three expressions in gilt express the sentiments, "Our spirits are kept sound and strong as we feed thoughts on the best thoughts," "Come as often as you can," and "Learn of me and ye shall find rest unto your souls."

The bids are called for by the 16th of the month at which time the contract will be awarded.

According to the specifications of the building, the plans for which were drawn by L. L. Hilton, the structure will be 30 by 70 feet in size, with a stone front. It will contain two stores, and a double pair of flats.

BOYS RUN AWAY FROM EVANSVILLE

They Are Arrested in Madison, and
One Is Willing to Return Home.

Madison Journal, Oct. 6.—John Linan and John Brunsell, two wayward Evansville boys, are sitting in the police station this afternoon, chewing tobacco and thinking of the home coming tomorrow. Both boys are truants. One wants to go home. The other says he is not particular whether he goes or not.

The two Johns came to Madison last Thursday evening in a box car, and were picked up while wandering in the North-Western yards by Officer Page. They remained in the station over night and were released the next day. On Friday both boys secured work digging in the trenches at the water-works. They earned $1.50 a day. Finally a man with whom they were working kicked because the "kids" got as much as he did. Then they lost their job.

Today Chief of Police Cal Broughon of Evansville came to Madison after the boys. Linan, he says, was reprimanded by his father for playing football while attending school at Stoughton. Brunsell's father owns the largest farm in the vicinity of Evansville. He is willing to go home.

FOOTBALL TEAMS PLAYED TIE GAME

JUNIOR AND FRESHMAN CLASS
TEAMS SHARE HONORS.

TOUCH DOWN FOR EACH ELEVEN

Roy MaDonald Dislocates His Shoulder—His Substitute Does Some Superb Tackling.

At the Athletic Park yesterday afternoon the second game in the series for the Denison cup was played between the football teams of the High school Juniors and Freshmen. As the losers of the first contest, the Juniors will play the Freshmen team while the victors, the Sophomores, will meet the Seniors on next Wednesday afternoon.

Large Crowd
About two hundred high school scholars, proudly wearing the white and red of '04 or the white and gold of the lower class wildly displayed their enthusiasm. Among the non-partisans sympathy seemed to lie with the Freshmen, who although they did not win the game, held the Juniors even, and at times put up a more brilliant exhibition of playing. Each team scored a touch-down in the first inning, but failed to pass the goal line in the second, leaving the final score five to five.

Easily the star feature of the game was the tackling by Davis, the substitute Freshman end, in the second half. The little fellow has caught the idea of throwing himself at his intended victim, with seeming disregard of the place where he will alight and he repeatedly brought down the largest men on the opposing team.

Painful Accident
Davis was given an opportunity to show himself by an accident to Roy MacDonald, who played the position at the beginning of the game. In a scrimmage in the first half he emerged with a shoulder which pained him so badly that he was forced to leave the place. He was taken to Dr. Chittenden's office and there it was found that he had suffered a dislocated shoulder, which if not serious, will put him out of the play and cause great inconvenience for some time to come.

SECRET DISPATCH.

War Drama is to be Given at Opera House Tonight.

So long as good strong natural melodrama appeals to the public there will be a field for such plays as "The Secret Dispatch," a new and fine play by David Higgins, which will be presented by a competent company at the Myers Grand tonight. Splendid scenery, many fine effects and unusual attention to every artistic detail mark this as an attraction far above the ordinary. The play is a domestic drama set in the picturesque region along the Ohio river in the stirring times of the late rebellion. While it deals with the war as a background it is not a war play, though its second act is set in a Union outpost just on the eve of an impending attack by a superior force. Set in the Tennessee mountains during the Chattanooga campaign it shows an interesting and intense side of war and yet does not call for the usual show of military force. The scene is more to carry forward the main story than to make a spectacle of war effects. It is seldom so strong a scene is shown in any play. The full story is one of sincere naturalness and interest from the beginning to the end.

A Good Thing.

Scleretic: Mrs. A. has been troubled with scleretic for over fifteen years. She came to me for treatment. After I gave her three treatments the pain disappeared and she has been free from pain ever since.

Neuralgia Dysmenorrhoea: Mrs. S. had neuralgia dysmenorrhoea for three years, and reflex neuralgia pains in left side of head and face. The pains were so severe that she had to resort to the use of morphine or chloroform. She came to me to be examined and I found a lesion at the twelfth dorsal vertebra and tenderness over the sacrum. After giving her three treatments she was completely cured.

Asthma: Miss D. had asthma for ten years. She came to this country for her health, but the asthma did not leave her. She submitted herself for treatment, and after two months she was free from the so-called incurable disease.

WITH THE ATHLETES

Under a second shake-up the Badgers showed great improvement in form, scoring touch downs on the second eleven in a half-hour scrimmage.

In the game that Chicago played Cornell college yesterday some of the stars were laid off in anticipation of a stiff contest with Purdue Saturday.

Seventeen indictments were returned by a grand jury at Springfield, Illinois, against the promoter of the "fake" foot racing swindles which have been conducted in that city in the last two years.

Not less than a half dozen of last year's stars have been assisting in getting the Minnesota eleven in shape for the game with Beloit on Saturday.

Although the season is ended the Chicago National League base ball team is still playing against various Illinois teams.

Slater has begun practice with the Beloit eleven and his presence added greatly to the vim of the day.

At a San Francisco field day held this week, R. L. Rose of Headlands broke the world's record for the shot put, formerly held by Dewitt of Princeton at 48 feet and 7 inches. The new mark is 49 feet and 6 inches.

The number of cripples on the Northwestern team has grown rapidly in the last week.

Reports of the extremely weak second team at Michigan have been circulated, but as the practice is behind closed gates it is hard to ascertain the truth.

FIVE LOSE LIVES IN BOAT WRECK

HUGE WAVE OVERTURNS CRAFT

Volunteer Lifesaver and Four of the Vesselmen Are Swept Into the Water and Drown in Sight of Their Companions.

Kincardine, Ont., Oct. 9.—Five persons perished alongside the wreck of the schooner Ann Maria at the moment when the heroic efforts of the volunteer life saving crew of this port seemed successful. One life saver died in the effort to rescue the imperiled crew and four of the crew were drowned.

The dead: Perry Bond, William Ferguson, Capt. Alexander Gordon, Mrs. Kennedy, Stephen Ryan.

The schooner, bound for this port from Cleveland with coal, was driven hard aground, 300 yards from this harbor, and was being beaten to pieces by the fierce seas that swept it. Signals of distress were run up and the crew, including the woman, lashed themselves to the rigging. Cries were heard over the roar of the sea, and when daylight came the signals of distress were seen from this city.

Volunteers to the Rescue.

Volunteers were called for to man the lifeboat and go to the rescue. The seas were running high and the attempt seemed desperate. The schooner was pounding heavily and threatened every moment to go to pieces. William Ferguson was the first volunteer.

After a desperate struggle the volunteers succeeded in driving the lifeboat through the surf and by hard work reached the wreck. The lifeboat was lashed alongside the schooner and the five men and the woman who constituted the crew were lowered into the boat. They were nearly dead from exhaustion and exposure.

Hero Drowns.

The crowd that lined the shore watching the work of rescue set up a cheer as the lines were cast off and the lifeboat started to leave the wreck. In that instant a great wave lifted the boat, drove it against the side of the wrecked vessel, and in an instant it was filled with water and the ten occupants were left struggling in the water. All but one of the lifesavers succeeded in reaching the comparative safety of the wreck, but four of the crew, worn out by their long exposure on the wreck, were lost in an instant, and Ferguson went down trying to save them.

Of the lifesavers Thomas McGraw, John McGraw, and Walter McGraw, who were on the wreck, and two sailors, George Schreyer and William Pemberton, caught the lines and drew themselves aboard.

Later the survivors were taken off after a hard fight with the waves, and all will recover from the exposure and injuries.

Mourns the Captain.

Capt. Gordon was only 30 years of age, but had pursued a seafaring career in all parts of the world. Last season he commanded the schooner John Magee. His engagement to a young woman of this city had been announced and the wedding was to have taken place after navigation closed this fall. William Ferguson was also a young man and was a prosperous lumber merchant of this city.

The Ann Maria was one of the old type of lumber schooners which is rapidly passing out of existence. For many years it was engaged in carrying lumber from Michigan ports to Chicago before being sold to go to the lower lakes. The lost vessel was owned by George S. Eastman of Milwaukee and was valued at $5,000. It was built in 1864 and measured 256 tons. The boat and cargo will be a total loss.

Race Spirit of Boers.

The Boer leaders are exhorting their people to preserve the race spirit, writes a reporter for the New York Sun. At the same time they acknowledge frankly that South Africa is now under one flag. Anyhow, as matters now stand, no other colony has such a glorious past to point to as the former South African republics.

THE HOME MARKET.

Secretary of the Treasury, Leslie M. Shaw, recently delivered in Chicago an old fashioned tariff speech. It contained so much of good, hard common sense, founded on facts, that it should be read, and carefully digested by every thoughtful citizen.

The times are so prosperous, and restlessness is so prevalent that there is a disposition to break away from the moorings, and drift out on a sea of experiment, regardless of the fact that disaster is certain to follow. It is well for republicans to remember that protection to American labor and industries is the foundation on which the party has built so successfully and that any attempt to destroy the foundation may mean ruin to the structure. Secretary Shaw realizes the danger. In speaking of the much discussed question of raw material, he asks the very pertinent question:

What is Raw Material?

"Is wool? No, it is the result of labor. It is grass and corn plus labor. Grass on unclaimed land is raw material. Is iron raw material? Yes, iron ore in unclaimed ore beds is raw material, but as soon as the ore beds are owned iron is raw material plus interest on invested capital, and at the mouth of the mine it is raw material plus interest on invested capital and labor.

"But conceding the Democratic contention that wool delivered at the factory, iron ore delivered at the furnace, hides delivered at the vat, cotton delivered at the spindle, is raw material, let us inquire whether it would be wise to put them on the free list.

"The United States is the home of the cotton plant. We produce three-fourths of the raw cotton of the world. And because we produce so much and import the merest trifle, and that of a quality we do not produce, cotton is kept on the free list. To put it on the protective list would neither yield revenue nor afford protection, for, as I say, three-fourths of it is grown here. We do protect it as soon as it leaves the spindle. Cotton, then, affords an illustration of what can be done when our manufacturers have free raw material. Now note results.

"We actually convert into yarn and textile, and I speak in round numbers, one-fourth of the cotton fiber of the world. Of this we export $30,000,000 worth. We import $40,000,000 worth of manufactured cotton. For the sake of the argument I assume that the fiber in our exported cotton manufactures about offsets the fiber in the imported cotton manufactures. This being true, the American people then actually consume, wear out, one-fourth of the cotton fiber this world produces. Without giving the figures in detail—but I take my data from Mulhall, and I believe that if he errs it is in undervaluing, relatively, cotton fabrics consumed in the United States—but relying on his figures, the American people consume, wear out, one-fifth, 20 per cent. in value of the cotton manufactures of the earth.

Home Consumption.

"I fear you do not appreciate these astounding figures.

"Seventy-five million people, one-twentieth of the people of the world, actually consume one-fourth of the cotton fiber and one-fifth in value of the cotton manufactures of the world. And we do this in the face of the fact that the people of the world, barring a little belt in the arctic regions, wear cotton if they wear anything. Thus by means of protection we afford and keep for ourselves one-fifth of the ultimate cotton consumption market of the world. Does this prejudice us in the outside market? It ought not to.

"The Democratic party demands free raw material, and I say we have free raw cotton. Now, what success do we have when we go out and compete in the outside cotton trade of the world?

"The various commercial countries of the world, including the United States, export in the aggregate $625,000,000 worth of cotton manufactures, of which we export $32,000,000. In other words, by reason of free raw material we are able to secure only 5 per cent. of the export trade in cotton manufactures. Mark you, we get 70 per cent. of the export trade in raw cotton, but only 5 per cent. of the export trade in manufactured cotton. "We get the one because we grow the cotton and the world wants it. We lose the other because with cheap labor the outside world can manufacture it cheaper than we can. So they take the raw material off our hands, manufacture it, put it on the world's market and get 95 per cent. of the export trade, while we, with cotton grown on our land, because of high priced American labor are able to get only 5 per cent. of the export trade."

LA FOLLETTE ON DOUBLE TAXATION.

"It is the man who owns the mortgaged premises, who has been paying 'double taxes' through all the years that he has carried the mortgage for whom I demand, not sympathy, but justice. He has paid his interest at 10 per cent., then at 8, getting it down slowly—not when or because the owner of his mortgage dodged his tax—but getting it lowered because, and only because, the great commercial influences of the country, acting upon the money market from the world's centers of trade, finally forced the rate down, securing for him, not as a concession, but too frequently as a somewhat tardy right—the regular interest rate. On top of all this interest throughout the long struggle this man has paid the full taxes on the mortgaged premises just the same as though he owned the entire interest encumbrance.

"He should have been relieved of this before. He should bear this no longer. He demands a law that shall take off from his assessed valuation the amount of the mortgage. Such a law would end 'double taxation.' Such a law, I am in favor of and advocated long before this campaign.

"Such a law would have been enacted and the man with a mortgage on his real estate would have been released from double taxation if the last legislature had followed the recommendation made in the first message which I had the honor as governor to submit to that body. In that message I called attention to the fact that California had years before adopted a constitutional provision that real estate mortgages shall be assessed to the owner of the mortgage and the assessed value of real estate reduced by an amount equal to the mortgage; that Missouri after an investigation had adopted a similar constitutional amendment; that the claim made that the California law had increased the interest rate in that state was answered by the census report, which shows that the interest rate in California is lower than in the adjoining states where they have no such law.

"I favored then and I favor now the taxation of mortgages against the owner of the mortgage, and an amendment to the law which shall require the assessor to deduct from the assessed valuation of his mortgage taxed, for no man shall be twice taxed on the same property.

"With the complete enforcement of the law taxing mortgages and with the enactment of a law relieving the mortgaged real estate from any assessment, except for the amount of its value less the amount of the mortgage, I believe all the controversy respecting mortgage taxation will cease. Such a law I hope to see passed at the next session of the legislature."

The governor presents a very plausible argument, and it appeals to every man who pays taxes on mortgaged property, but it must be apparent to every thinking mind that the man who has money to loan, is entitled to a marketable rate of interest. If the rate on real estate security is 6 per cent. and the law provides for a 2 per cent. tax on mortgages, the interest rate is reduced to 4 per cent. The borrower will be obliged to pay the tax or secure his money from outside the state, and this is exactly what he would do. Wisconsin money would find a borrower away from home and outside capital would supply the home demand. It is currently reported that in the governor's own town $175,000 of home capital is loaned on farm mortgages in a single county in Iowa.

TAXING MORTGAGES IS A LARGE QUESTION.

And while it is easy to talk about the problem it presents some phrases that have not yet been solved. It is a question of fact and not of theory.

WOMEN IN POLITICS.

The registration of 1500 new voters in the city of Janesville is an innovation that is entitled to free discussion, and every encouragement.

These names represent a constituency of intelligent women who are entitled to a voice in one of the most important questions of the day.

These women are not clamoring for woman's suffrage, and but a very small minority, if any, are possessed with any ambition to enter the field of politics.

ket, or Mr. Mathie, the democratic nominee, shall serve the state in this important office.

Both candidates are well and favorably known, and doubtless either one of them is capable of filling the office acceptably. Mr. Cary occupies the place on the ticket which should have been given to Supt. Harvey, and the methods used to defeat the present incumbent are so disreputable, that no defense has ever been offered, and the republican press of the state voiced party sentiment in repudiating the deal.

Many old time republicans will vote for Mr. Cary, because his name is on the ticket and they make it a matter of principle to vote a straight ticket, but the women of the state will not be influenced by any such argument, and the solid vote of this new element will go to Mr. Mathie. There should be at least 50,000 votes of this class, and this number will be doubled if the women of the state appreciate the opportunity that has come to them to say an effective word for the public schools, and also to enter a note of warning against corrupt practice in politics.

General Bragg was a long time in discovering that letter writing is a dangerous pastime. If he takes up his residence in Hong Kong he had better take Mrs. Bragg along, and then it won't be necessary for him to express his opinion of the natives on paper.

New Orleans hasn't much use for coal, but the city is indulging in a strike that is hot enough for a northern climate.

Sir Thomas Lipton is ambitious to make another trial for the American cup. He will doubtless be accommodated.

The coal miners are in the fight to win, and it is doubtful whether the president succeeds in inducing them to return to work a prospective agreement.

Secretary of the Navy Moody will make a tour of the west and discuss national issues. A hearty welcome will be accorded.

Mitchell is a larger man than the president in one respect. A word from him would settle the coal strike.

Both money and enthusiasm appear to be lacking in the state campaign.

General Bryant should be permitted to spend his declining years in a more congenial occupation.

PRESS COMMENT.

Milwaukee News: The president's duty: Put down trust anarchy! Seize the coal mines and succor American people!

La Crosse Republican and Leader: Do you remember what anthracite coal looked like? Sort of a dark, smooth, shiny article, wasn't it?

Ft. Atkinson Advertiser: Rose is the creature and obedient tool of the corporations today as mayor, and they know which side their bread is buttered on.

Marion Advertiser: There is one thing that is consoling. The half-breed contingent of publishers do not twit the "silk stocking" gang of being the authors of "yellow journalism."

Milwaukee Journal: If President Baer is so particular that the law should be upheld, why does he not head the Sherman law and dissolve the coal trust?

Milwaukee Sentinel: Senator Spooner's opening speech will be considered the most important of the year, and it is generally believed that he will speak for the national administration and outline its policy.

Madison Journal: It is a curious campaign. Governor La Follette's Milwaukee speech plainly revealed his appeal to democratic voters and Mayor Rose does not pretend to cover his tracks into the stalwart camp.

La Crosse Chronicle: There are many fair words in the address delivered by the governor. And until there is evidence that he is not as good as his word he must retain the confidence of the people of Wisconsin.

Waupaca Post: Rose's whirlwind campaign is well named. Like other cyclones it throws away things as fast as it gets them. Rose has begun to lose the votes of even the bitterest stalwarts through his whirlwind methods.

Madison Journal: We like to read about apples. Where apples are grown, the people are honest and wholesome. Wisconsin is doing more and more with this crop, and 500,000 barrels. Much of it is evaporated and made into apple butter.

Fond du Lac Reporter: Fond du Lac has the satisfaction of knowing that the city of Oshkosh is to have an ambulance patterned after the one purchased by the Ambulance Association of this city. For once Oshkosh admits that Fond du Lac has a good thing.

Green Bay Advocate: About the most discouraged men in the state of Wisconsin today are those democrats who not long ago were depending on republican votes to elect Rose. Accumulating signs or republican harmony give them that tired feeling.

Madison Democrat: Rumors of trouble in the republican camp multiply. It is said that Senators Spooner and Quarles will not mention the state ticket, or at least the head of it, in their stump speeches. It calls for a vast deal of that christian grace of returning good for evil, of turning the other cheek and of kissing the smiting hand, and it was settled long ago that a man cannot be a senator and a saint.

La Crosse Chronicle: We believe the coal mine owners and the railroad magnates have made a great mistake. They are showing all of the unreasoning arrogance of the old French nobles, and we fear that the incidents of the conference have increased the bitterness on both sides. The nation has been insulted, and for this insult there will be a demand for revenge.

Abyssinian's Grave Rebuke.

While Itas Makonnen, the Abyssinian general, was in Paris a reporter undertook to interview him, and among others put this decidedly leading question: "Do your countrymen like the French or the English the better?" The dark-skinned warrior gravely asked in return: "Is your respected mother still alive?" and on receiving an affirmative answer said: "May she teach you better discretion."

Bey Revives Old Custom.

The new Bey of Tunis, reviving an old custom, will repair twice a week to the Palais at Tunis, which is the seat of government. Complying with the custom, which debars him from occupying his predecessor's residence, he will remain at Carthage, while the late Bey's palace will be assigned to his cousin and heir, Prince Naceur. As the new Bey understands French the office of interpreter will be abolished.

Joke on Professor.

A pretty joke was recently played on a well-known professor at Berlin by some students, who walked in his door one evening with some bricks and mortar which they discovered near his house. In consequence of this, much to the delight of the students, the professor was unable to deliver his usual morning lecture, and remained a prisoner in his house until some workmen arrived and pulled down the wall.

This Winter.

Several games have been played between the four squads of the Junior Y. M. C. A. gymnasium class. The contests are both indoor baseball and basket ball, and the result of each game is marked on a system of scoring which depends both on the victorious team, and on the number of men in each team in attendance. At present the Grays, captained by Shafner, are in the lead, with the Blues, under the leadership of Merrill, a close second.

Novel Marking System
Each game gives four points to the winning team. In case of a tie each team takes two points. In addition to this ten team having a plurality of members present secures a point for each extra man, over and above the number in the opposing squad. The object of this is to furnish an incentive to the men to come out at each of the two meetings of the class held every week.

Four Squads
Four squads have been made up from the entire class, each of which is under a captain. Each squad plays one game each week of either basket ball or indoor baseball. The squads are divided as follows:

Blues—Merrill, capt.; Green, Woodworth, Fleck, Hayes, Jeffris, Smith, Richards, Fifield, Lennards.

Grays—Shafner, capt.; Saxby, Hogan, Flaherty, Mills, Stevens, Koch, Strang.

Reds—Campbell, capt.; Atwood, Cunningham, Rider, Brown, Hauss, Mills, Clark, Marsden.

Whites—Kilmer, capt.; Dryer, Dunwiddie, Wilkinson, Jeffris, Crissy, Koch, Connors, Chase.

Markings: White, 1; Red, 4; Gray, 6; Blue, 5.

BELIEVE WOMEN WILL NOT VOTE

Male Voters Cynical Regarding Desire of Janesville Women to Wield the Ballot.

Janesville men take a scoffing attitude toward women and the ballot. If the common talk on the street corners and in the stores this morning, many be taken as a criterion. Not that they disapprove of the franchise on school questions, or that they doubt the wisdom of securing the vote of Janesville women on these questions; but they do not believe that any great number of the fair sex will exhibit enough interest, or care to exert themselves sufficiently, to be present at the polls at the proper time.

Names Discarded
True, there are many names enrolled of Janesville women, but the men say that the enrollment was made almost without the knowledge, and certainly without the consent of many of them. Less than one hundred took the trouble to ask at the places of registration whether their names were enrolled or not. A number of names which were handed in the Fifth ward were thrown out, because they belonged in other wards.

Wanted To Bet
One of the skeptics, who by the way holds a municipal office and should be fairly well acquainted with the lay of the land, offered to wager that out of the nine precincts of the city not a greater average than ten from each precinct would appear to cast their votes. His argument was based on the fact that it is more convenient to discuss sanitary measures than it is to clean up one's back yard, and much easier to talk of granting the franchise to women, than it is for the same women to brave the stares and possibly the rude remarks of a crowd of men at the polls.

RETURN BELOIT FAMILY

Milwaukee Will Not Care For Poor
Family Sent There

Mrs. George Daniels and five small children, who were sent to Milwaukee Tuesday in a destitute condition by the Beloit authorities, will be returned to Beloit today. They were cared for at the Home for the Friendless at Milwaukee. Supt. R. D. Whitehead of the humane society in speaking of the case yesterday said:

"It was not right for the Beloit authorities to send the woman and her children to Milwaukee. I advised her today to stay away from large cities during the winter if she wishes to succeed in keeping her children from suffering. I anticipate a great deal of destitution this winter among the poor of Milwaukee and those women who are not assured of making a livelihood here would do well to remove to the interior of the state. The necessities of life are much cheaper in the country. The poor who have to pay nearly all they can earn for fuel will suffer for lack of proper food."

"Every winter there appears to be an influx of women to the large cities from the country towns. This movement is a mistake under the best of conditions and would be doubly so this winter."

A Cosmopolitan City.

Up to the time of the Prussian-Austrian war the old fortress of Mayence of the German Confederation was beyond doubt the most cosmopolitan city in the world. At that time the official language was German, the law French, the government Hesse-Darmstadt, the church Roman Catholic, the administration Austrian, the military commander Prussian, the garison mostly Italian, the postoffice Thurn and Taxis, the gas works Baden and the telegraph Bavarian.

BELOIT PREPS. BADLY TREATED

MOST SEVERE CASE OF HAZING
FOR MANY YEARS.

EXPULSIONS APT TO FOLLOW

Three Middle Classmen Are Subjected to Cruel Treatment by Revengeful Seniors.

(Special To The Gazette).

Last night one of the severest cases of hazing that has occurred in the Congregational school at Beloit for many years took place. The principal actors of the drama were all preparatory students and the three victims were middle classmen of the institution.

Some days ago the Middles planned a coup which they thought would surpass any trick played by the seniors for many a day to come. A class flag with the motto and number of their class was hauled to the top of the flag pole on Scoville hall and nailed to the mast head, so to speak. The pole is a tall one and the work of fixing the flag there was a difficult one, making it almost an impregnable position. Try as they could the Seniors could not get it down.

Catch Culprits

Last night the Seniors met and went to the rooms of Tawney, Tuttle and Bell, the three middle classmen, and dragged them from their beds. They then took them onto the Keep Athletic field where they were put through all sorts of trying ordeals.

Crawled Down Hill

The first thing that was done to the three men was to impress them with the enormity of their act in placing the flag. Next they were compelled to crawl down a rocky hill leading to the field on their hands and knees. On the field they were tossed around and drilled, made to sing, and finally were compelled to play the star positions in a football game with eyes blindfolded.

Were Carried Home

Then the Seniors took their victims back to Scoville Hall and told them to take down the flag. This they tried to do but were so weak that they could not stand and were taken to their rooms by some of the more compassionate Seniors. The faculty are investigating the affair and expulsions may follow.

LEAVES HIS BED TO SEE VETERANS

Grand Army Men Cheer President Roosevelt as He Rides Among Them.

ODD FEATURES IN PROCESSION

Woman's Band From Indiana Vies With "Old Abe," the Wisconsin Eagle, and Attractive Decorations of Post From the Northwest.

Washington, Oct. 9.—President Roosevelt, rising from his sick bed, reviewed the great parade of the Grand Army of the Republic, the climax of the thirty-sixth grand encampment.

While the 25,000 veterans were marching down Pennsylvania avenue, down which many of them marched as raw recruits, and down which many more marched in the grand review at the close of the civil war, the president, in an open carriage, appeared, and was driven first down one side of the moving column and then up the other, stopping for a short time at the reviewing stand to raise his hat to the officers and cabinet members in the stand.

Cheer the President.
As the president's carriage moved along the lines it was followed by waves of wild cheering, and division after division and state after state took up the cheer, and the demonstration grew until the president's carriage disappeared.

The president then returned to the temporary White House, from which he had been carried on a litter, and was joined by Mrs. Roosevelt for a short drive.

The appearance of the president was the final detail that made the encampment a success, and the grand parade, the culminating feature of the encampment, was adjudged the most successful in the history of the grand army.

Gov. Bliss Is Hurt.
Only two accidents happened to mar the day. While the parade was forming Gen. W. W. Blackner of Boston, department commander of Massachusetts, was thrown from his horse and sustained severe injuries.

Gov. A. T. Bliss of Michigan was thrown from his horse near Washington circle during the parade and suffered severe bruises about the body. The governor rode with his old regiment. The horse bolted. Gov. Bliss succeeded in getting him safely through the thoroughfare, but at the circle a sudden lurch unhorsed him.

March as of Yore.
The parade itself was a striking one. For over six hours 200,000 persons, jammed into Pennsylvania avenue and the intersecting streets, raised the chorus of "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp, the Boys Are Marching," and between the packed lines of humanity the men who saved the nation marched along, seemingly with renewed youth, while hundreds of bands played the airs that enlivened the weary marches of the civil war.

The procession was reviewed from the stand immediately in front of the White House by Commander in Chief Torrance, who was assisted by the members of the president's cabinet and by Adj. Gen. Towler of the G. A. R. Secretary Hay stood immediately on the right of the commander in chief, while Secretaries Root, Moody, Wilson and Hittcock, and Postmaster General Payne occupied seats in their rear. Gen. O. O. Howard, Gen. Edward McCook, Gen. Daniel Sickles, Gen. Carrington, Gen. J. Warren Keifer, and Gen. Edgar Allen were in the stand.

Blue and Gray.
Sifting with these distinguished ex-union soldiers was an ex-confederate lieutenant general, Longstreet. He was escorted to the front, together with Gen. Sickles, and as the two appeared side by side they were greeted with wild cheers. It was said to be the first time that an ex-confederate officer appeared in a grand army reviewing stand.

Beginning a few minutes after 10 o'clock, when the head of the column moved from its station at the capitol, it was almost 5 o'clock when the last squad passed the place of disbandment, west of the white house.

The Illinois department, leading the column, consumed an hour in passing the reviewing stand. When the head of the column reached a point immediately in front of the stand the commander of the department turned and proposed three cheers for the President of the United States. The summons was heartily responded to, as was a subsequent proposal of cheers for Gen. Torrance and another for Mrs. John A. Logan.

Unique Features.
Wisconsin proudly bore at the head of its column all that remains of "Old Abe," the bald eagle, which, while alive, accompanied the troops from the Badger State throughout their campaign.

The Pennsylvania veterans carried a number of old flags, which were cheered.

Scattered through the procession were many women. There was one female band, hailing from Waterloo, Ind.

The Minnesota men carried a broad placard announcing that to be the "Bread and Butter State." South Dakota's sons carried long sticks bearing on the point long ears of corn. Every Kansan in the parade, and there were several hundred of them, carried an umbrella painted on the outside to represent a huge sunflower. Iowa's each carried a big ear of native corn on the side where formerly canteens were borne. They passed the reviewing stand shouting:

Hurrah, hurrah, for corn and hay!
We are the boys from Iowa.
The North Dakotans bore aloft sheaves of wheat. One of the Michigans held up a big gray rooster, but he was too subdued to crow.

PRESS COMMENT.
Neenah Times: The Milwaukee Sentinel and The Appleton Post, two leading stalwart organs of Wisconsin, have backed their heads in a frantic effort to see which would be the first to fall into the line of La Follette after his Milwaukee speech.

Milwaukee Journal: The practice of the Milwaukee police in arresting all suspicious characters who are unable to give an account of themselves is very commendable. Many criminals, who would otherwise escape detection, are thus brought to justice.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: The Oshkosh Northwestern will doubtless receive forgiveness for its many jibes at Fond du Lac if it will only quit referring to this place as the city at the "foot of the lake." A glance at the map will show that Fond du Lac is situated "at the head of Lake Winnebago." There are others at the "foot."

Milwaukee Wisconsin: Wisconsin is not the "corn belt" but she raised a large amount of the grain for fodder, and the reported failure of the crop to mature, because of the continued cool weather, implies heavy loss to the farmers. Some of this loss might be recouped by packing the immature grain and stalks in silos, for green winter fodder.

Oshkosh Times: Previous to the republican state convention La Follette was denounced by the stalwarts as a dangerous man. Were they fabricating then when they accused him of more sins than any one ought to be guilty of? If so, are they to be believed now when they plead for his election—that is, such of them as intend doing so? As the thing stands, what reason have they to ask the people to believe him?

Winneconne Local: With the platforms and leaders of one side advocating things supported by the other side a few years ago, and with the other side fighting things it advocated a few years ago, and with things on both sides largely vice versa from what they were a few years ago, the voter can be forgiven for asking: "Which party is which and which party do I belong to?"

Marquette Eagle: Now that the State Federation of Women's clubs has taken up the franchise question, the society ladies will be interested. It is right, too, they should be. The schools are the training places of the children and the mothers ought to give more attention to the management of them than they generally do. It will be interesting to see whom the women will vote for.

MAY TAX THE COAL COMPANIES

State Board of Equalization Will Test Exemption Rights.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 9.—Members of the state board of equalization will inquire into the legality of the statute which exempts coal companies from assessment by that body. This course has been practically decided upon. Judge Tuley some time ago held that this clause of the revenue law is unconstitutional because it purports to amend a law that did not exist. As the Chicago people have not been especially interested in the coal companies the case has not been taken to the supreme court and that tribunal has never passed upon this clause of the law.

MAY END PRISON CONTRACTS

Commissioners of Joliet Penitentiary Likely to Comply With Law.

Joliet, Ill., Oct. 9.—The penitentiary commissioners will meet next week, and it is expected they will take action toward complying with the law that prohibits contract prison labor, as pointed out by Attorney General Hamilton. There are about 800 convicts on contract work, earning for the state from 50 to 75 cents each day. It is planned to have the next legislature make provision for their labor on state account. The building of roads is suggested.

CHINESE ARE PUT TO DEATH

Ringleaders in the Attack on Missionaries Are Killed.

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 9.—The steamer Lyo-Maru from Yokohama brought news that the Chinese commission sent to investigate the murder of the missionaries at Chen-Chow, Hu-Nan, has returned to Chang-Sha. The remains of the murdered missionaries were interred with great ceremony. The church was repaired, eight ringleaders of the disturbance were put to death and five officials dismissed.

Attorneys for the state and for Williams, exhausted the second venire of one hundred men, and only secured three possible jurors for the Chicago trial.

THAT BIG LEAGUES
COMBINE

Details of the Scheme

THE baseball mill is grinding slowly, but surely, and recent developments are such as to warrant the belief that movements of a momentous nature are developing in the relations of the National and American leagues. The principal topic of discussion is the proposed combination of the two leagues into a twelve club circuit. While those "in the know" have been aware for some time that the rival organizations have had such an object in view, the general public was taken wholly by surprise when the information came to the surface.

The gist of the twelve club circuit plan is as follows:

Soden, Brush and Hart compose the executive committee of the National.

was and think the story is one of the same kind that retired me from baseball. I have not been offered a price for my stock, nor have I been approached to sell. It is a bad time just now to dispose of baseball holdings. If our club had a chance to win the pennant, we could get a good price for our stock, but with a losing team the value depreciates. I cannot imagine where such reports originate, but they hit wide of the mark.

"I have lately been in communication with a prominent American league magnate, who suggested an amicable arrangement. I told him that such a plan could not be considered until the American league returned what they had stolen from us. First, restitution and then amicable adjustment. If we have peace, it must be with honor."

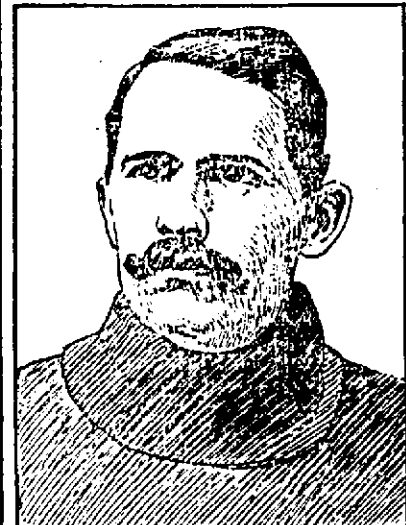

Mack Has a Laugh.

Connie Mack ridiculed the story of a consolidation. "I think you will find the Philadelphia Athletics at the same old stand next year," said he. "I guess this is another 'white elephant' story. White elephants are attractive things. At least the people like to come out to Twenty-ninth and Columbia avenue to see them, and we have never been asked to give anybody his money back."

"When I saw Ban Johnson in Chicago the other day, he was so jolly over the American league situation that he refused an invitation to come on to Atlantic City; said he was happy enough where he was. This amalgamation story is likely to make Ban laugh so hard that he will take on ten pounds more weight; and he is so fat now that his life is in danger."

"Dummy" Hoy's Retirement.

William Hoy, better known as the "Dummy," who recently decided to retire from baseball, is one of the most interesting figures that ever graced the national game. He was popular as center fielder on Comiskey's pennant winning White Sox during the seasons of 1900 and 1901 and signed with Cincinnati this year. With the various changes in the Cincinnati roster which finally culminated in the signing of Joe Kelley and the letting out of the veteran manager, "Old" McPhee, "Dummy" got his release. Almost as soon as he was given his notice he was the recipient of many offers, but those from major league clubs were not high enough, and Hoy has ever declared that he would never again play in minor league company, but would quit the game as soon as he was unable to keep a position in fast company. Hoy began playing ball in 1896 in Oshkosh, Wis., and since that time has played in almost every team in the National league. His longest service in the National was in Cincinnati, where his career finished. He is reputed to be wealthy.

WILLIAM ("DUMMY") HOY, WHO HAS RETIRED.

"The baseball public has a very superficial knowledge of the game," said a seasoned member of the Chicago National league team, "and the estimate of patrons of the relative value of players to a club is positively painful. Why, I have frequently heard a player praised for a performance for which he should have been censured, and again I have seen cases where an infielder was praised for not handling a grounder cleanly and making a put out when, by a grand effort, he managed to knock it down and prevented a runner from scoring from second."

Arthur Zimmerman has decided to return to the cycle path. He will shortly sail for France, where he has contracted to appear in a number of paced exhibitions and to ride as team mate of the great Jacquelin, whom Zimmerman induced in 1893 to give up his work in a repair shop to race on the cycle track.

Zimmerman's return to racing will be a great surprise. He is now the proprietor of a large hotel at Point Pleasant, N. J., and as mine host made a successful debut.

MINERS' LEADERS VISIT MEN WORK

SECRET CONFERENCE IS HELD

Rumor Has It That the Representatives of the Workers Were in Session With an Agent of Morgan Relative to Settlement.

New York, Oct. 9.—The Erie and Ontario railroads are said to have broken away from the coal operators' combination and to have offered individually to yield to the miners.

New York, Oct. 9.—J. Pierpont Morgan is believed to have begun negotiations with John Mitchell, through Senators Quay and Penrose of Pennsylvania and Louis N. Hammerling, an independent operator of Wilkesbarre, Pa., to end the anthracite coal strike.

Mitchell was summoned to New York suddenly and unexpectedly. In response to a long distance telephone message, presumably from an authorized agent of Morgan, which he received in Wilkesbarre, Mr. Mitchell came to the city with Nicholls, Duffy and Fahy, his district presidents.

Mysterious Conference.

Soon after registering at the Ashland house Mitchell, Duffy and Fahy went to the Fifth Avenue hotel, where they began a conference with Senators Quay and Penrose and Mr. Hammerling. At the conclusion of the mysterious and secret session every participant acknowledged that he was sworn to secrecy for the present and the utmost endeavor failed to shake any of the conferees from his determination not to reveal the plans in hand.

Mr. Mitchell and his aids returned to the Ashland house and the other members of the conference denied themselves to all callers.

Baer Said to Have Quit.

Who summoned Mitchell and his associates to this city the strike leader refused to say. President Underwood of the Erie road and Vice President Wilcox of the Delaware and Hudson denied emphatically that Mr. Mitchell had been called here by the operators or that they had any proposition or concession to submit to him.

It was reported in Philadelphia that George F. Baer had resigned the presidency of the Philadelphia and Reading road. Mr. Baer has many times declared since the strike began that if J. Pierpont Morgan or any other powerful influence interfered or compelled him to make concessions to the men he would resign.

Morgan's Man Acts.

Mitchell's visit here, it is reported, was at the behest of J. Pierpont Morgan, the negotiations having been made in behalf of Mr. Morgan by a man named Guernsey. This man acted for Mr. Morgan in settling the strike in the coal fields two years ago. He made all the preliminary negotiations and paved the way for the settlement.

On the train which brought Mitchell and three associates to this city was a man who kept close to Mitchell, but denied that he was in the strike leader's party. Mr. Mitchell and the district presidents denied that they knew the man. He left them as soon as the New York side was reached.

Gets 'Phone Message.

The fact that Mitchell left the scene of the strike on the day when the local unions were balloting on the question of continuing or ending the strike and came here with three district presidents was regarded as of the utmost significance. The three district presidents accompany Mitchell only when some step of exceptional importance involving the life or death of the strike is to be taken. They are in an advisory capacity and divide with Mitchell the responsibility of accepting or rejecting terms. Before he left Wilkesbarre he was summoned to the long distance telephone to talk with someone in New York. The message from the telephone booth visibly excited him. Calling to Nicholls, he said: "You find Fahy and Duffy. I want you all to go to New York with me on the first train. It is very important that we should leave at once."

Miners Stand Firm.

The only intimation of the character of the summons was that it was from a member of the Manufacturers' association, with whom Mitchell had conferred in Buffalo. This was not verified, however.

Undeterred by the presence of the entire force of Pennsylvania's militia in the anthracite region, the striking miners voted unanimously to continue the strike in spite of President Roosevelt's plea for them to return to work and await the results of a presidential commission's investigation, with consequent legislation in congress, for an adjustment of their grievances. According to President Mitchell 260 local unions in Pennsylvania reported having voted to continue the strike. A small number had not reported, but Mr. Mitchell was confident that they had decided to stand firm.

ANSWERS PRESIDENT.

Mitchell Sends Reply to Mr. Roosevelt's Proposition to Miners.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 9.—Unless President Mitchell's hurried visit to New York bears fruit the end of the mine workers' strike seems a long way off, and the prospect of sufficient coal being mined to satisfy the public demand is extremely poor. Every local union of the miners' organization throughout the hard coal belt held special meetings and resolved to remain on strike until the mine owners grant them some concessions.

While the reports of these meetings came pouring into Wilkesbarre, President Mitchell dictated a letter to the President of the United States in which he gave his answer to the proposition that the strikers return to work and trust to have their condition improved through an investigating commission.

What the answer of the miners' chief is he refused to divulge, but it is difficult to conceive that with the replies of the local unions piled around him he could do otherwise than respectfully decline the President's proposition.

To Build Library.

Joliet, Ill., Oct. 9.—Ground will be broken next week on Joliet's new public library, to cost $175,000. Adam Groth of Joliet secured the general contract, defeating Chicago bidders. The building is to be of Joliet limestone, with gray granite trimmings.

Will Not Merge.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Oct. 9.—The National Irrigation congress will retain its identity as an independent organization at least for another year. This was decided by a vote of 112 to 91.

Sickness Stops Campaign.

Bedford, Ind., Oct. 9.—John C. Chaney, Republican candidate for congress, gave up his canvass in this county on account of the fatal illness of his father at Fort Wayne.

TWO NEGROES HANGED BY MOC

One Confesses a Recent Murder and Implicates the Other.

Newbern, Tenn., Oct. 9.—Garfield Burley and Curtis Brown, negroes, were lynched here by a mob of 500 persons. Burley shot and killed D. Platt, a young farmer near Dyersburg. Platt had traded horses with Burley and the latter demanded that the trade be declared off. Platt refused and while on his way home was shot down by Burley. A posse hunted down the murderer and caught him in a negro cabin at Huffman, Ark. While being brought to Dyersburg he confessed the murder and implicated Curtis Brown as an accomplice.

Eau Claire Leader: The miners' strike is helping to improve northern Wisconsin. Farmers are blasting the old pine stumps and making them up into cord wood knowing that there will be a great demand for fuel before the winter is over. The slashings are being gone over and all timber suitable for fuel is being prepared for market. Thousands of acres will be made ready for the plow by this cleaning up process that would, but for the high price of coal, have remained unproductive for many years.

"I saw an advertisement in the paper of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I began the use of it about a year ago. I took five bottles of it, and my health is better now than it was for years. PLAN NEW WORK FOR CITY HALL

GROUND IN THE REAR TO BE MACADAMIZED.

HORSE SHED TO BE ERECTED

Surroundings of the New Municipal Building to Harmonize with its Beauty.

Members of the building committee of the common council are evidently determined that nothing shall be lacking which will add to the attractiveness of the new city hall. Now that the building itself is practically completed and its architectural beauty is generally conceded, attention is being given to the surroundings. The purchase by the city of the right of way for the broad alley on the south means the destruction of the unsightly sheds which now occupy the property and the new cement walks are a great addition to the appearance of the building.

The improvements are being carried still farther. The grounds at the rear of the building will be macadamized after the same plan as the one used on the streets. The stone has already been delivered from the city's plant and is from a special blast. It is blue in color and harmonizes well with the building.

It is also the plan of the building committee to have a shed erected in the rear of the city hall where the different officials may keep their horses if they desire.

PRETTY WEDDING FOR YOUNG COUPLE

Miss Hannah Katherine Thorburn and George William Schmidley Were the Principals.

Miss Hannah Katherine Thorburn and George William Schmidley, both well-known young people of this city, were happily married last evening at six o'clock at the parsonage of St. Mary's church, Rev. Father W. A. Goebel being the officiating clergyman. Miss Mary Thorburn, sister of the bride was the bridesmaid and the groom was attended by his brother, Harry Schmidley.

After the ceremony a wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's father, Adam Thorburn, 207 Pearl street, only relatives and a few intimate friends being present. While the reception was not a large one, it was a very pretty occasion.

Handsome Gown
The bride and groom, assisted by their attendants, received their friends and listened to the sincere congratulations in the north parlor, the receiving party standing under a rope drapery of asparagus. The parlors were beautifully decorated with a profusion of pink and white asters.

The bride was handsomely gowned in white Swiss mull with trimmings of applique lace and she carried white fuchsias. Her bridesmaid wore a blue silk mull gown with trimmings of lace and medallions.

After the extension of congratulations, a four-course supper was served. The bride's table was laid in the dining room and was beautifully decorated with red and white carnations and amilax. The guests, other than the bridal party, were served at small tables which were decorated with pansies.

Are Well Known
Both the bride and groom have a large circle of friends in this city. The bride is the youngest daughter of Adam Thorburn and has resided in Janesville all her life, being especially popular with her friends. The groom is a son of Mrs. Mary Schmidley. He is a genial young man of excellent character and a trusted conductor in the employ of the Chicago & North-western company.

The happy couple left last evening on the 9:15 train for St. Paul and Minneapolis. They will reside at Fond du Lac and will take with them into their new home many handsome and costly wedding gifts as well as the congratulations and best wishes of many friends.

MANY MEN ARE INJURED IN NEW ORLEANS STRIKE

Nonunionists and Former Employees of Traction Company Have Pitched Battle.

New Orleans, Oct. 9.—Reinforced by over fifty strike breakers from Chicago, the New Orleans Railways company made its first serious effort to start cars and break the tie-up, which, for eleven days, has left the Crescent City entirely without street car facilities. The result was a series of desperate encounters and one pitched battle in which sixteen persons were seriously injured and probably a score of others hurt. Over 100 shots were fired, the policemen and strike breakers driven to refuge by showers of bricks, and the cars they were trying to move wrecked.

Six of the Chicagoans, among them the contractor who has charge of the strike breakers sent here from Chicago and his assistant, were injured.

Herman Corbush and Henry Fellman, nonunion men from Chicago, were walking out Canal street towards the barn. They were accosted by a man who drew a revolver, fired two shots at them, and escaped. Corbush was badly wounded in the groin. The men had just reached town and were going to report for duty to take out cars.

As a result of the serious clash Mayor Capdevielle requested Gov. Heard to order out the militia, and the governor responded promptly, ordering Maj. Gen. Glynn, in command of the first military district, to place his troops at the disposal of the mayor. All the militia in the city was ordered under arms and corporals' guards are out rounding up the men. Company C of the First regiment wants to evade service because of sympathy with the strikers, and all officers and men resigned in a body. It is understood the resignations will not be accepted.

DETROIT CONFERENCE ON COAL STRIKE OPENS

Delegates Make Prompt Response to Mayor Maybury's Invitation to Attend.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 9.—Delegates to the interstate conference on the coal situation, called by Mayor W. C. Maybury and a special committee of the common council, arrived on time. One of the first was ex-Senator W. C. P. Breckinridge of Lexington, Ky. The conference was called to order at 9:30 o'clock in Masonic temple by Mayor Maybury. No plan of action for the conference was presented by the local committee. This matter was discussed and it was decided to leave all plans and propositions to originate in the conference.

There is no lack of accommodation for those attending the coal conference. Many citizens have volunteered to entertain them, and if necessary one of the large Detroit and Cleveland line steamers will be tied up to a wharf and thrown open for the accommodation of the delegates.
